For the Sunday Appeal.] BLESSED ARE THE PURE IN HEAST. BY J. L. GOODLES.

- Oft I have dreame; a bliswfu' dream, And one I hope is sometimes so That isid go are oft in as they seem, When earth is bright to us below.
- And in this dream I see a you'h
  Wh se motto loads him to the sky;
  I see a worst of won trops rush
  B. am pure y from his deady eye.
- When onward toward Wisdom's fields Present that fouth of elering will, And as xerilo comfort yields, Goss forward to his beacon still.
- I see him pe-sive o'er a book— I see him a wron his heart and soul; And by his calm, scrabble took, I know he finds a bilse'ni goal.
- Thus in that leek there is, it seems,
  The thought to Henven is at to man,
  An that e world can end then
  With troubless like that mar each plan.
- I hear bim murmur, as in siren, The timen my hears kindes deeds; But that all mes whose me to weep. Greven I for toeir bank y deeds.
- By this I think his happy soul Hath found its rest in best outent; And then I w near in my sleep Why all men do not on r pent?
- And why has pain so strong a hold? And why is power so as by sought? And why is on the sory to it. When all the christian's life is taught?

But this did not seem to be the purpo of the Indians; for tying the arms of the captives behind them, they took them to the cances, where, taking the old man into one, and the young men into another, they shoved boldly out in-to the lake and paddled rapidly down toward where the house stood. Leonora livined their intention instantly.

"Ha!" she said to herself, "they design capturing me, too. They deem that an easy job, perhaps!" and her eyes flashed and her face flushed with anger. "See | there is a third canoe, which they no doubt suppose will contain me. This villainous work has been carefully calsulated ; but, you had savages, you have mistaken your girl this time! The way to detect the breeding and quality of the women that people the salons in the French stereoscopic pictures, is to look at their hands. To judge of the station of these pretenders in San Francisco needs no such nice discrimination. In spite of their finery, costing as much as that of their mistresses, it lacks "the hang," or, as the French say, la

> The prevailing atmosphere of their toilets is dish-watery; and instead of earning admiration or inspiring dumb respect, they excite only an amused contempt. As the wages of servant girls are higher here than anywhere else in the world, in just that degree are their presumption and pretension more aggressive and intolerable. Family life in San Francisco has no other such exasperating thorn, and when the wives get together to tell over their troubles, the imperial Biddies are the most fruitful and legitimate of topics. The fact that the Chinaman has been pressed into nursery, kitchen and chamber-work is an evidence of how galling is the tyranny of California
